Headmaster

Mr. John M. Mahoney

Personally, I have come to believe that your yearbook should carry no profound message from the headmaster. In reality, the message is here in the pages that follow. The pictures of your teachers, friends, the various academic, athletic and social activities will permanently remind you of your BHS days. As the years go on, all too rapidly, this yearbook will continue to afford you moments of meditation, relaxation, laughter and, yes, even sadness. On behalf of the faculty, we express the sincere hope that your memories of BHS, as recorded here, will be predominantly pleasant ones!

STAR TOUCH

Over the threshold and into the world
With courage and faith now unfurled
With the light of knowledge by our side
We'll face each day with beaming pride.

Future goals we'll seek to gain
Though fate and challenge still remain.
The gift of love beyond the trails
Will pull us through when all else fails.

Peace among men and freedom all!
Is still our most important call
With the help of God and his guiding light
We're sure to succeed and win the fight.

Young men and women, near and far
Are going forth to touch a star
Into our hands the future's placed.
With victory and promise let it be graced.

SEARCHING

Lonely child, wandering
In search of something, escaping everything.
Run; hide; faster; no, do not turn—
Forward, never behind
Seek; strive; fail; despondent and rejected.
Again, reach, struggle, suffer.—peace
Forever unattainable?

Beast, come beast!
You and I today will catch the wind,
Fetch it, bring it here.
The dancing leaves then die,
And rippling waves must stand.
No longer are we alone
Foolish unbeast, ever struggling
Hereafter together?

LIFE'S DOORWAYS

All through life we are going through doorways, both actual and figurative. These doorways lead us to new realms of learning and experience.

Often we have to choose our doorways, and sometimes, finding certain doors closed to us, we are disappointed. But an old saying tells us that God never closes one door but that He opens up another better way.

It's worth thinking about.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE CLUB

The American Field Service Club, organized in November to better acquaint the students and teachers of Brockton High with the American Field Service program, has been very successful this year. A talent show was held to raise money so that a foreign student could attend Brockton High in his senior year and be a member of the graduating class. This year's student, Gunnar Andersen comes from Norway.

On March 10, the club sponsored an American Field Service Day on which six foreign students, living this year in surrounding towns, attended classes at Brockton High. These students addressed the Juniors and Seniors at an early assembly. Later a Sophomore program was held, at which American Field Service films were shown. That night a Turkey supper, open to the public, was held at the North Junior High School.

Club officers were as follows: President, Kathleen Fowler, an A.F.S. student who spent the summer in Greece; Vice-President, Deborah Ward; Secretary, Patricia Cuttler; Treasurer, Marsha O'Neil.

As children we were led,
As adults we will lead.

The 1966-67 season of the BHS debating club witnessed a busy and argumentative one. With Mr. Frederick A. Latendorf as faculty advisor, the members of the club put their forensic abilities to work by debating various facets of this year's National High School Resolve. This resolve concerns the contemporary problems of United States foreign policy debated interscholastically all over the United States. Under the chairmanship of Dominic DeLeo, the members of the debating club presented practice and model debates before school audiences. The newly formed BHS debating team realized a real taste of interscholastic and tournament debating.

Under the direction of Mr. Saval, the club held weekly meetings on Fridays to compete with other high school chess league members. Brockton is a member of the Southshore Chess League.

Elected officers included: Fred Cooper, President; Shelia Mayo, Secretary; and Catherine Kvaraceus, Parliamentarian. At the onset of this year the club accepted a constitution which the Parliamentarian interpreted to the members. Abiding by these pre-established rules, the members competed in a tournament where the five top players at B.H.S. played five skilled members of the opponents' teams. At the end of ninety minutes the person with the highest score became the winner. In order for a team to win, at least three of its players must have defeated their opponents.

"AINOTKORB"—A little backward at the outset, but then subsequent to our "reader survey", really peppep up! Thanks to the wit of Amelia, a dedicated staff, improved news coverage, and an impressive layout, "Brocktonia" has really earned the praise which it has received this year. From computer dating to student forums, from track to Jose Ferrer, from personal profiles to editorials, the "67" paper has presented a great variety of topics, trivia, and tantalizing tidbits.

The Math Club, established under the supervision of Mr. Sharkey, has tried in past years to accomplish its aim—to arouse a genuine interest in mathematics in our B.H.S. students. The club elects a slate of officers who work together to prepare programs centered around the various branches of mathematics. Two of the programs that have been offered to club members are lectures, given by Mr. Sharkey and other mathematics teachers, and trips to a nearby computer center. Those whose interests and abilities in math are advanced may try their skill at problems offered in "The Math Journal", a monthly paper containing various articles and problems of a mathematical nature, to which the club subscribes. In addition club members may take some of the tests offered during the year by various state and national institutions. Although the membership each year is comparatively small, the club continues to provide, for those interested, a learning of advanced and unusual mathematical concepts, not offered in school courses.

Math Team

Second row: Robert Plouffe, Alan Dopfel, Samuel Brown, Robert McClung.

While the seconds tick quickly away, the members of the B. H. S. Math Team try to solve the math problems confronting them in competition with other schools. The team, consisting of two seniors and a junior, chosen from the Math Club, are given three problems, with a certain number of points, to solve. The time limit is ten minutes. Following each round, the scores are tallied and the school accumulating the greatest number of points at the close of the contest is the winner. The members of the Math Team are of exceptional mathematical ability and are intensively trained by Mr. Sharkey for the competition. In former years B. H. S. has ranked high at many of these math meets.

This feature is now appearing in its thirty-eighth record-breaking year at B.H.S. It is directed and produced by Mrs. Marion Kelleher and Mr. Joseph Hart, and stars a fine cast of forty girls. Co-starring in this B.H.S. spectacular are various department heads and teachers, all of whom play a major role in making "The Part Timers" the huge success it is.

It is the true story of how forty ordinary juniors were chosen to become forty of the most un-ordinary seniors in the commercial course. The girls play dual roles in that they go to school and classes one week and work as secretaries the following week. The theme of this feature is to give these girls the secretarial experience they will need to survive in the competitive business world we live in today. They work for department heads and teachers alike, both in the high school and at the four junior highs. In the hours they work, the girls are often in charge of an entire office and all the responsibilities that go with it such as typing, correspondence, and the operation of business machines. "The Part Timers" is appearing in this area only at B.H.S. and through the continued guidance, leadership, and direction of Mrs. Kelleher and Mr. Hart, it is sure to bring brighter and more exciting stars in the future, and is on its way to becoming the most highly rated educational story of the year.

Listening comprehension is a very important adjunct to foreign language learning, and the student should become accustomed to various voices, both male and female, in order to attain the best "ear" for a modern language.

A total of four channels at the console can possibly be used at one time, if it were necessary. This means that four different language programs, in four different languages, can be "on" simultaneously.

Junior Prom

Last year's Junior Prom held on April 29, at the North Junior High was entitled "Some Enchanted Evening". The gym decorated with gaily-colored crepe paper flowers and streamers set the scene for this truly "enchanted" evening. The Grand March as usual marked the beginning of the gala affair. Music was provided by a live orchestra, and refreshments were served. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Queen, Denice Nickelow. The girls were presented charms as a remembrance of the occasion.

Class of '67 Reminisces

The first day of school in September, '64 was perhaps the warmest day of the year. Nearly 900 students congregated from four junior high schools to mark the birth of the 101st graduating class of B. H. S. Although limited by an afternoon session, our class elected a slate of officers to guide the affairs of the underlings and conclude the year with the Pigskin Social.

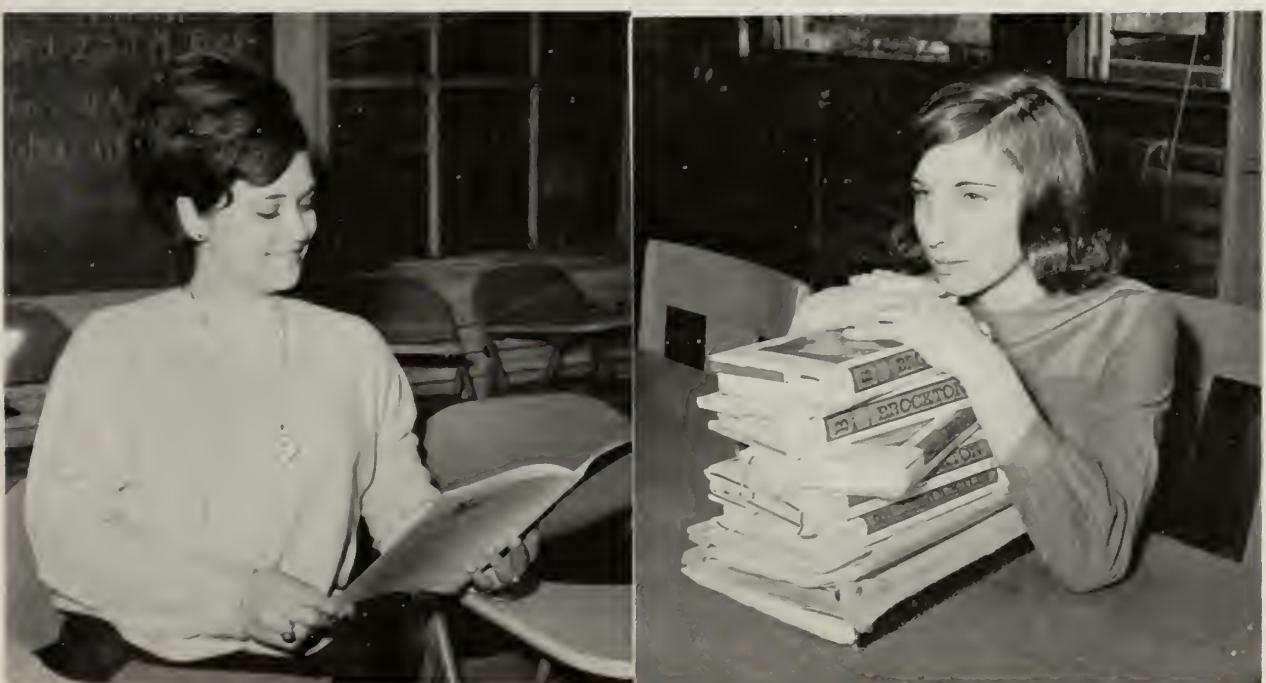

In September '65, classes returned to the morning session which was a relief to many. Our star athletes participated in football, basketball, baseball, and track with the upperclassmen. As juniors, "in the middle of things", our activities were limited to the German, French, Math and Future Teachers of America Clubs. The afternoon Composition Class was a stimulus climaxed by Intramural Sports. Our year was highlighted by the Junior Prom, and the class trip to Washington. We patiently waited to hear of the decision of the American Field Service concerning the possibility of a member of our class going abroad. Our class was the first to have a representative sent overseas; Kathleen Fowler, who stayed in Greece during the summer of '66.

During our final year eleven students of our class received letters of commendation for high performance in the 1966 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. The Student Council held a successful book fair and the talent show really displayed the abilities of faculty and students. Three members of the class made All-State Chorus, while two made All-State Orchestra. With our high school years concluding, the members will pursue many fields of endeavor but the memories will remain recorded in our "Brocktonia" yearbook.
